JCM Global Enters South African Distribution Agreement with Global Payment Technologies

DUSSELDORF, Germany (9 September 2014) – JCM Global, the gaming industry's leading transaction technologies supplier, has entered into a distribution agreement with Global Payment Technologies (GPT). Under the arrangement, GPT will sell and service JCM's entire line of bill validation products in South Africa.

The agreement brings JCM products back to South Africa, including JCM's award-winning iVIZION®, Transactional Bill Validator (TBV™) and the company's new DBV series.

JCM EMEA General Manager Payam Zadeh said, "Our award-winning product line of bill validators and other peripheral equipment has set global standards. We are very pleased to announce this arrangement with Global Payment Technologies to bring JCM solutions to the operators in South Africa who have been asking for our products."

Wanda van Vuuren, National Sales and Marketing Director for Global Payment Technologies, said, "JCM Global and its line of products are internationally known for high quality design and world-class service. We are proud to partner with JCM to bring their solutions to South Africa."

GPT serves a variety of clients in a wide spectrum of industries, including the gaming industry, financial services, hospitals, government institutions and the retail sector. Utilizing GPT's existing and robust sales and service network in South Africa is an efficient means of bringing JCM products to the marketplace.
