DESPITE INTERTRAFFIC POSTPONEMENT, JCM GLOBAL IS STILL DRIVING INNOVATIVE SOLUTIONS

In light of the Covid-19 outbreak, Intertraffic Amsterdam has been rescheduled from 21-24 April 2020 to 23 - 26 March 2021, a decision that JCM Global completely endorses. This year, JCM was set to exhibit an innovative new solution for the transportation and parking sector – the MRX™. And while clients can no longer experience it first hand in Amsterdam, they can still get hold of this game-changing solution to help their operations.

A regular at Intertraffic, JCM was set to bring yet more innovative products to the mobility industry. The headliner of these was the Modular Banknote Recycler (MRX™). This new product can be integrated into parking and ticketing machines making it the perfect solution for those in the transportation sector. Through the use of JCM's technologies, the MRX™ is faster, more reliable and more flexible in order to meet the needs of those operating within the mobility ecosystem.

The unique modular design of the MRX™ means it is easy to configure and is scalable for operators of any size. It allows for fast and simple upgrades as well as replacements and maintenance – this means less downtime and better customer experience. While it is easy to swap parts out, operators will rarely need to since the MRX™ also boasts a durable and robust design.

The MRX™ accepts two banknotes per second, with an escrow capacity of up to 30 banknotes and a cash box capacity of around 2,200 banknotes. This gives operators in the transport industry the speed and scale they need to run efficiently.

One of the biggest worries in any cash-handling industry, but especially in transport and parking when it can be very open to the public, is security. The MRX™ allays these concerns by offering locks on each module that ensures only authorized persons have access to the transport pass as well as outstanding sensing and anti-fishing technologies
