MRX finds Success in CashDro's Latest Retail Payment Terminal

DÜSSELDORF, Germany (2 February, 2021) - JCM is pleased to see its innovative Modular Banknote Recycler (MRX™) integrated into CashDro Spain's latest solution for automated payment in the retail market, CashDro7, to provide frictionless cash transactions.

"We are happy to see JCM's innovative automated payment solutions integrated into new customer-facing products, such as CashDro's payment terminals. These automated solutions are increasingly important in retail as hygiene becomes of greater concern, and JCM is pleased to be able to deliver the products needed to keep cash safe for consumers," said JCM Global General Manager Payam Zadeh.

CashDro7 is the latest iteration of CashDro's highly successful line of payment terminals for both attended and unattended points of sale in retail. The CashDro7 is currently rolled out across the European Union in a number of retail settings including supermarkets, bakeries and more.

The integration of the MRX™ now enables bulk banknote recycling, depositing and dispensing while maintaining smooth, secure transactions. And, the user-friendly yet robust design offers retail workers the same straightforward experience as customers when it comes to maintenance and use.

"The MRX was our choice for the CashDro7 thanks to its great price-point and the compact, modular design, which allowed for its integration into our original concept for the payment terminal. What's more, end customers really appreciate the MRX's ability to accept and give back notes in bulk, with the capacity to meet today's needs," said Lluís Fernández, CashDro General Manager.

CashDro Spain has around 300 employees as well as subsidiaries around the world. With products adapted to more than 20 currencies, their series of payment terminals have proved successful for numerous applications worldwide.
