JCM GLOBAL HIRES JOHN CHEBRA AS SENIOR PROJECT ENGINEER

LAS VEGAS (May 4, 2010) – JCM Global, a world leader in currency validation systems, has hired bill validation design expert John Chebra as Senior Project Engineer. Chebra has been working for JCM Global as an Independent Contractor since February 2009, and now has been appointed Senior Project Engineer.

JCM Global President Akiyoshi Isoi said, “We are thrilled to welcome John to the JCM Global team. John is known throughout the industry as a talented and creative expert in validation technology. John’s hiring reaffirms JCM Global’s commitment to building the most talented and experienced currency validation team available.”

Chebra brings more than 20 years of experience in bill validation design to JCM Global. Most recently, he worked for Money Controls/Ardac Inc. supporting large suppliers such as IGT and NCR. In his first major assignment at JCM Global, he will be working closely with JCM’s ATM and Teller Automation products. Chebra graduated from Cleveland State University with a B.S. degree in Electronic Engineering.
