Parts are Parts

Part No. 052664

Description: Guide, F-out

Usage: This guide performs two functions: It properly guides and aligns the WBA transport into the WBA frame using the alignment fins, and it acts as a prism for the WBA exit sensor.

Note: The plastic fins on this guide are easily broken when the transport is removed and set on a hard, uneven surface, then dragged or pushed across that surface. It is not mandatory to replace the F-out guide if one or two of the fins are broken, but JCM strongly recommends replacement if there is any damage.

Customer Notifications/Tech Tips

Question: Why does JCM regularly upgrade software for their product lines?

Answer: JCM realizes that software changes made by our customers are time-consuming and sometimes costly. Therefore, JCM only upgrades software for three reasons:

- Security
- Acceptance
- Feature enhancements

Security upgrades ensure that our products maintain the highest security rating in the industry. For more information on JCM product security and the U.S. government's anti-counterfeiting measures, contact JCM Technical Support or visit the Bureau of Engraving & Printing or the Secret Service websites at www.bep.treas.gov, or www.secretservice.gov.

Acceptance upgrades ensure that our products maintain the highest acceptance in the industry, including all of the new style notes, and addresses any quality or printing issues that may occur in new series notes.

Feature enhancement upgrades improve or add new features such as the Intelligent Cash Box system, Sentry, or AccLoad. Contact your local JCM sales representative for more information on these products.
